After a playoff choke in '08, it's appropriate that the Cubs will play this spring at HoHoKam Park, next door to Mesa Cemetery. You'll find a little more life 15 minutes east at Longbow. Six years ago architect Ken Kavanaugh redesigned his 1997 original (to accommodate a business-park expansion), but there's plenty of nature and no homes blighting the landscape. Views of Red Mountain are a plus, and you can save some green

The Cubs will call HoHoKam Park home in 2009.

by booking your tee times online. Cubbies fans can drown their sorrows at Macayo's in Mesa (480-820-0237), which carries on the tradition of tasty, affordable Mexican eats that Woody Johnson started in Phoenix in 1946.
